and consider appropriate action to take at a future meeting.

Attendance Report

Although there was some improvement in the February student attendance as compared to January, attendance continues to be a concern of the school board and the school staffs, especially at the high school levels. In order to improve attendance at the high school, Mr. Armentrout discussed a system of excused and unexcused absences which the faculty plans to establish. When a student is excused, an opportunity to make up work will be provided. Make up work will not be accepted when the absence is unexcused.

The system will be explained to the students and detailed information will be provided for parents through the local newspaper prior to initiation of the plan.

Support of the plan was given by the School Board, along with encouragement to exercise reasonable and necessary steps to help students understand the importance of regular school attendance. Efforts will be made to work with parents, for their cooperation is needed to correct the problem.

The next regular meeting of the board will be held Thursday, April 13, at 7 p.m. in the Appomattox County School Board Office.

THE MADISONIANS

They have been received enthusiastically on tours throughout Northern Virginia and the Tidewater area, at the Roanoke Civic Center, in Pennsylvania and as far south as Atlanta, Georgia. This year the group has been invited to perform at the National Convention of Jazz Educators Forest Road United Methodist Church in Dallas, Texas and at the American Choral Directors Convention in Atlanta, Ga.

The James Madison University Jazz Ensemble is in its 7th year as a credited performance ensemble of the JMU Department of Music. It has performed concerts and clinics across the state and also in Maryland and New Jersey. It has participated for three years in the Glassboro (NJ) State College Jazz Festival and has received superior ratings from such outstanding jazz artists as Clark Terry, Manny Albam, Lew Soloff, Ernie Wilkins and Clem de Rosa. In 1977 the Ensemble was invited to perform at the Newport Jazz Festival in Nice, France. About the band, Clark Terry commented: "A fine band; clean ensemble," Chris Wood (lead also with Clark Terry): "super, beautiful, just magnificent," Tommy Newsom (Tonight Show): "a solid, swinging band."

One of the things that makes the Madisonian show unique is the improvisational nature of their music. The creative abilities of each member are tapped as they are called upon to improvise, or compose music on the spot - the essence of jazz. But perhaps the greatest characteristic of the Madisonian is the outstanding quality of their music and the enthusiasm and professionalism of their performance. Don't miss the opportunity to bring your family to an exciting evening of entertainment by the Madisonians. Sponsored by The Appomattox Lions Club.
